Dear Sir/Madam

15.08.2017.

It is my pleasure to invite you to participate in the Workshop:

Urban Drainage Systems as Key Infrastructure in Cities and Towns – the Australian Experience which is organized as part of the Research project No. 37010, funded by the Serbian Ministry of Science. The Australian Experience will be shared by members of the research group led by professor Ana Deletic, Fellow of the Australian Academy of Technological Sciences and Engineering (ATSE), and Founding Director of multiple research centers for integrated urban water management, such as the Facility for Advancing Water Biofiltration (FAWB), CRC for Water Sensitive Cities, Monash Infrastructure Research Centre and current Pro Vice-Chancellor (Research) at the University of New South Wales. Presenters have varying experience levels, and topics cover new technologies for stormwater treatment, ecohydrology, modelling of integrated systems and pathways for application of scientific innovations in engineering practice. Presentations and discussion will be in English.

Workshop programme:

Dr Dušan Prodanović	Workshop opening address
Dr Ana Delečić	Introduction - Research at Monash University/Australia
Natalie Barron	"Can urban biofilters switch between water sources and maintain treatment performance?"
Juri Jung	"New filter media for stormwater/greywater disinfection"
Veljko Prodanović	"Green walls for greywater reuse - Design and performance"
Dr Edoardo Daly	"Land use and water resources: an ecohydrological perspective"
Dr Kefeng Zhang	"Impact of future rainfall projections from ensemble GCMs on stormwater management"
Dr Peter Bach	"Supporting the planning of water sensitive urban design through integrated modelling and assessment"
Dr Belinda Hatt	"Bonding over biofilters: a collaboration between industry and research"

Workshop will be on September 4th, 2017 at the Ceremonial Hall on the second floor of the Faculty of Civil Engineering, University of Belgrade, Boulevard Kralja Aleksandra 73, starting at 14:00.
